

KS&R's DIGITAL DISPATCH

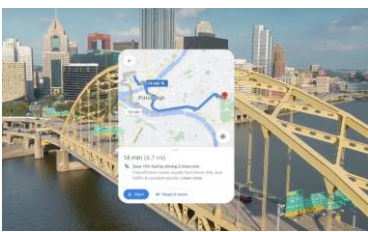

- The Air Force leverages AT&T's FirstNet to support public safety.
- New features from Google will focus on reducing planet-heating greenhouse gas emissions.
- Unity introduces a new platform that will build 3D interactivity into live sports viewing.
- TikTok lines up its own NFT drop.

AT&T's FirstNet Wins Air Force Contract

First responders and public safety personnel at 15 US Air Force bases will use AT&T's FirstNet for critical communications network, and the operator stated the military is considering FirstNet for other bases as well.

Learn more

Google Launches New Features To Help Users Shrink Their Carbon Footprints

Google announced a suite of new features that it says will help people who use their platforms make more sustainable choices.

Learn more

Unity's Metacast Aims To Take Live Sports To A 3D Interactive Space

Unity, a development platform often used with video games, is introducing a new Metacast technology for building 3D interactivity into live sports viewing.

Learn more

TikTok Starts Flirting With NFTs

The NFT space has had quite the year, and while it can be difficult to separate the billions of dollars in crypto speculation from the potential infrastructure shifts, plenty of mainstream tech companies are dipping their toes into the space and signaling future interest.

Learn more

A MESSAGE FROM KS&R

KS&R empowers our clients with timely, fact-based insights so they can make smarter decisions and be confident in their actions.

Learn more here or email us to schedule a meeting.

Want to read more?

More articles from KS&R